Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be entirely relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

DR. J. T. JOHNSON Guarantees to correct every case that he undertakes. If your eyes are giving annoyance consult him at once.

TRINITY NOTES

Of Interest to the Many Friends of Trinity College.

Correspondence Telegram

Durham, Feb. 25.—Mr. Albert Whitehouse has been elected director of the gymnasium and is expected to reach here this week. Mr. Whitehouse has had several years experience in this kind of work at three of the well-known colleges of the United States. He received his training at Harvard University, where he was four years an assistant in the gymnasium, he was two years instructor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at Boston, and three years trainer of the athletic team at Dartmouth College. He studied medicine at Tufts College, Mass. He is thoroughly equipped for this work, and will introduce into the gymnasium here the methods followed at the leading colleges of the country. The new gymnasium furnished with all modern apparatus, will be opened the 1st of March. This is something the college has long needed and much good is expected to come from it.

Hon. H. G. Connor, speaker of the house of representatives, delivered an address at the Civic Celebration, held on Washington's birthday under the auspices of the Trinity College Historical Society. His subject was "A Sane and Better Citizenship." Judge Connor is a man who has studied social questions, and his address was full of good advice and sound wisdom. His address was of great interest to a large audience consisting of residents of the Park and visitors from the city.

The third of the series of Historical Publications is just from the press. It consists of papers prepared under the direction of the Historical Society.

The South Carolina papers announce that the literary address at the commencement of Wofford College is to be delivered by President Kilgo.

Rev. C. F. Siler, pastor of Trinity church, Charlotte, has arrived at the Park. He comes at the invitation of the College Y. M. C. A. to hold a series of special religious services.

Hon. Kope Elias, member of the board of trustees, has been at the Park on a visit to his son and daughter, who are students in the college.

At the last regular meeting of the Scientific Society, Mr. W. H. Adams presented a note, with drawing concerning the recession of Mars. Mr. L. C. Nicholson gave an interesting discussion of sources of electricity, and Dr. C. L. Hornaday read a paper by Mr. Richard Webb, on optical illusions. The society appointed a committee to advance the interests of the College Museum.

THE PEOPLE ARE READY.

And the Time Has Come For Real Road Improvement.

Editor Telegram:—People no longer doubt the value of metal roads. By metalized roads is meant stone covered roads. They, therefore, are not looking for arguments to convince them of the pressing necessity for permanent road improvement. They want a road to show for the expenditure of money.

The fact that Greensboro and the country have been separated by mud axle deep; people in the city cannot get wood and the farmers in the country cannot haul wood; and, when they bring a load, charge fifty per cent. more because of the mud; and this, too, in face of the fact that hundreds of dollars have been spent on the roads, is a most powerful appeal for permanent improvement.

The people are ready for stone covered roads. A fine opportunity for real action in this regard will soon be afforded the county commissioners. Let them allow this opportunity for the cause to pass.

A metal road twelve feet wide from Greensboro to Pomona is of the greatest importance. It will cost only six hundred dollars more to build twelve feet wide than nine feet wide. Since it is at the city it should not be less than twelve feet. Anything less will be a mistake. A competent engineer at hand knows the cost.

The best of material is also at hand; the convict labor is at hand; the time is now for real road building, and there is a place for beginning. Let us begin.

Charlotte People Lose.

Senator Osborne asked the senate to relieve him of the mental strain he was enduring and not wait until next Tuesday to settle the Charlotte dispensary matter, but to take it up and settle it last night. The request was granted and the bill was defeated by a vote of 31 to 12. Thus the will of the great moral element of Mecklenburg was slapped in the face because of one senator being bound by a pledge to barroom men.

The Cash Racket Store, 332 South Elm, will be open for business on and after Saturday, February 25th. Having bought the stock of the "Guilford Racket" at an enormous discount from first cost, we shall be in position to offer the cheapest goods ever shown in Greensboro. Cash Racket Company.

OFFER FOR A. & N. C. RAILROAD

Mr. W. J. Edwards Agrees to Pay $300,000.

AND EXTEND IT TO CHARLOTTE.

Will Put Up a Guarantee of $100,000 That the Line Will Be Completed.

The Telegram, on the 13rd, announced there was a rumor concerning a deal with reference to the A. & N. C. Railroad. It has developed that there was abundant grounds for the rumor as the following from the Morning Post of this date shows:

A bill will be introduced in the legislature today providing for the sale of the state's interest in the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad to Mr. W. J. Edwards.

Mr. Edwards agrees to pay $300,000 for the road. He further agrees to deposit $100,000 additional as a guarantee that he will extend and complete the road a distance of 100 miles in the direction of Charlotte and Salisbury.

Mr. Edwards is well known in the North Carolina railway world. He was for fourteen years with the Seaboard Air Line and won promotion to the position of chief disbursing agent under the administration of Major John C. Winder. When seen last night Mr. Edwards said:

"The proposition is a bona fide one. We propose to take the road and build an independent line to Charlotte. We would open up a country that has a great future. Associated with me is North Carolina and northern capital. We have no connection whatever with any other railroad."

The following is the bill:

Section 1. That upon the payment to the state treasurer, for the use of the state of North Carolina, within ninety days after the ratification of this act, of the sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00), the said state treasurer be and is hereby authorized and directed to sell, assign, transfer and deliver to W. J. Edwards and such others as may be associated with him, or his assigns, all the shares of the capital stock owned and held by the state of North Carolina, in its own name or in the name of any other person or persons for the use and benefit of the state, in the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad company.

Sec. 2. That at the time of the said sale and transfer and before the delivery of said shares of stock, the said W. J. Edwards shall enter into a contract with the state of North Carolina in a form thereof to be approved by the attorney general of the state, to be constructed and complete or cause to be constructed and completed, within four years from and after the ratification of this act, a line of standard gauged railroad at least one hundred miles in length, connecting with said Atlantic & North Carolina railroad and running westerly through the counties of Wayne, Johnston, Harnett, Moore and Montgomery, and thence in the direction of Concord, Salisbury or Charlotte.

Sec. 3. That at the time of executing the contract provided for in the next preceding section, the said W. J. Edwards shall deposit with the state treasurer bonds or other valuable securities to be approved by said state treasurer, of the market value of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00), as collateral security for the faithful performance of his aforesaid contract within the time therein limited, the condition of said contract to be that, if the said one hundred miles of railroad shall be completed within four years from the ratification of this act, then the said bonds or other security shall be surrendered and returned to the said W. J. Edwards, his associates or assigns, but that, if the said one hundred miles of railroad shall not be so completed, then the said deposit shall be forfeited to the state of North Carolina and shall be converted into money and converted into the general funds of the state, it being distinctly understood that the advantages to accrue to the state from the completion of said one hundred miles of road constitutes a material inducement for the sale and transfer of the aforesaid stock. Provided, however, that, until the deposit herebefore provided for shall become forfeited, the said W. J. Edwards, his associates or assigns shall be entitled to collect and receive the interest, dividends and profits accruing thereon.

Couldn't Fill the Order.

The Telegram has been urging the establishment of more manufacturing enterprises. Take this case and look at it: A gentleman, large furniture dealer of Lynchburg, was in this city yesterday to purchase over three hundred suits of furniture and over a thousand bedsteads. It's a little humiliating to confess it, but the furniture factory here couldn't fill the order and the gentleman went on to High Point.

Let Greensboro get in shape to accommodate all who come.

WASHINGTON CITY NEWS.

Opposition to Confirmation of Another Judge.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Some opposition appears to be developing to the confirmation of Mr. Shelby, of Alabama, nominated for the judgeship of the new southern circuit. Senator Bacon who was instrumental in securing the passage of the bill through the senate for the establishment of the new circuit court for the states of Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Texas and Florida, is a member of the senate committee on judiciary, to which the nomination of Mr. Shelby has been referred. Senator Bacon was one of the most earnest supporters of Col. Glenn, of Georgia, who was endorsed by the entire delegation, as well as democratic and republican newspapers of the state. Senator Bacon and other members of the Georgia delegation thought when the new circuit was established that Georgia would be honored with the appointment. Although Senator Bacon intimated at the meeting of the judiciary committee the other day that he would oppose hasty action on the nomination, there has so far as can be learned, transpired nothing upon which to base a belief that Shelby will be defeated, or that the nomination will be hung up in committee. As Col. Glenn, after the nomination of Shelby was sent to the senate, promptly telegraphed his congratulations to the successful candidate, and assured the latter of his warmest wish for prompt confirmation, it is not perceived how the senators from Georgia could now consistently or successfully resist confirmation, even were they disposed to do so. Moreover, those who know Judge Shelby regard him as fully qualified for the bench, and as a man of unimpeachable integrity and honor.

As a lawyer his reputation is not confined to the state of Alabama, but he is favorably known throughout the entire south. Several members of the judiciary committee say that they do not anticipate much trouble in getting a favorable report on the nomination. The members of the Virginia delegation in the house have given up hope of securing the passage through the house this session of the bill for the relief of the Richmond Locomotive Company. Representative Lamb, of the Richmond district has on several occasions sought the consent of Speaker Reed to allow him to call up the bill and ask unanimous consent for its passage, but the speaker has so far declined to yield. There are several claims pending in congress of interest to the southern states, but by the attitude of the republican majority in refusing them consideration, none of them will go through at this session of congress.

Yesterday was the last day which under the rules of the house should have been devoted to bills on the private calendar, but the day was consumed with the army appropriation bill, which is considered as being of more importance than the payment of just and honest claims of the citizens of the south which have been pending in congress many of them, since the close of the war of 1861.

Some opposition is developing to the passage of the compromise on the army reorganization bill. In the senate several of the democrats say openly that they do not like the bill, although there does not seem to be any disposition as yet to delay its passage. In the house among the republicans there is also much opposition, principally among the republicans, who do not like what they call a back-down on the part of the president.

Representative Hull, of Iowa, although he introduced the substitute prepared, and will vote for it, admits privately that it is not framed according to his liking, and that if he had the matter in his hands the compromise would not have been made.

M. B. Shrier and wife, of Greensboro, are at the Hotel Raleigh for a few days. Mr. Shrier is in the city on personal business.

Among other North Carolina people in Washington are Messrs. Ed. Latta and C. Manning, both of Charlotte. The former is stopping at the Ebbitt House and the latter is registered at the St. James hotel.

Postmasters have been appointed in North Carolina as follows: Ascend, Chatham county, Wiley Goodwin; Bryants, Chatham county, R. F. Johnson; Marble, Cherokee county, Jesse C. Anderson; Palmyra, Halifax county, Samuel M. Alexander; Richardson, Bladen county, John Davis.

"Popular" is the name of a line of ladies' Oxford made by the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., and they are rightly named, for it is one of the most popular lines of low shoes in the country. They are sold in Greensboro by Thacker & Brookmann, who now carry them in stock in a great variety of styles and sizes.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

THE SITUATION IMPROVING.

One Thousand Two Hundred Suspects Arrested.

POLICE EXTREMELY VIGILANT.

British Cruiser Landed Men To Fight Fire—Underwriters Refuse To Pay Losses at Manila.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Manila, Feb. 25.—The arrest of 1,200 suspects since the fire started and the extreme vigilance of the police is believed to have averted all danger of further incendiarism at present.

The main fire brigade of the British cruiser Narcissus was landed every night for the protection of British banks.

Underwriters refuse to pay losses from the fires here, claiming exemption by reason of the war clause in the policies.

Four American soldiers were wounded in last night's fighting in front of Calosa, and one at San Pedro. Scattering shots continue all along the line.

The situation is slightly improved, although the Chinese are still timorous.

"THE MISOGYNIST."

This Splendid Comedy Was Repeated Last Night.

A larger audience than on any night since Monday greeted the Murray-Hart company at the academy of music last night, when, by special request they played "The Misogynist, or, A Woman Hater."

A continuous roar of laughter throughout the entire performance attested the high appreciation by the audience of the clever work of the characters in the play, every one of whom were perfectly suited to his or her part. To make special mention of any certain one is not possible—all were good.

As on previous nights, Miss McCullough and Mr. Yost delighted those present with their singing, both responded to hearty encores.

Tonight the company will present a four act farce comedy, entitled, "The Man from Maine." Mr. Murray promises a lively time, plenty of "spice," and perfect satisfaction to all.

This will close the engagement of this good company in our city. Give them a rousing send-off.

Pulliam Gives Bond.

Mr. Lawrence P. McLeod, of Asheville, arrived at noon today to liberate his uncle, Lawrence Pulliam, who was brought here yesterday from California. He went immediately to Marshal Miller's office and gave the bond of $5,000. Mrs. McLeod, Lawrence Pulliam's sister and J. E. Rankin, cashier of the Battery Park Bank, of Asheville, are mentioned as securities on the bond.

The meeting at the jail was a sad one: As soon as the cell door was opened the two men clasped hands and neither spoke for more than a minute. They went to the Benbow to spend the afternoon and Pulliam donned a new suit of clothes which he brought with him from California. They will return to Asheville tonight.

In Court Today.

T. R. Link, alias Dunn, yesterday pleaded guilty of forgery, though he has not yet been sentenced.

Joe Hanes pleaded guilty of forgery, and was sentenced to 4 months on the public roads.

Annie Wright, charged with writing libelous letters was found guilty and sentenced to 18 months in jail.

A number of less important cases have been tried this afternoon.

The grand jury made its report and was dismissed this morning.

The Gibson case having taken up two days the criminal docket will not be finished this week.

Another New Dwelling.

Mr. C. S. Watson, one of the best known and most successful shoe drummers in the state, has purchased the lot between those of G. Sam Bradshaw and R. W. Murray on Ashboro street, and will during the spring, erect a handsome residence thereon. This is one of the best locations in the city, in a splendid residence section, and Mr. Watson intends erecting a residence in keeping, if not superior to, those in that vicinity. Let the good work go on.

"The Man From Maine."

The above is a very pleasing comedy lately written by one of our cleverest New York dramatists and though it has not been written long enough to win recognition among the comedies of today, it bids fair to be one of the most popular of plays. It will be produced at the academy of music to night for the first time in the south. Come out and have a good laugh. Ladies admitted free.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

SATURDAY, FEB. 25, 1899.

The Telegram has received a belated letter from its friend Mr. J. W. Albright, of Asheville, agent the dispensary question in Greensboro; but as the question has been settled and "peace declared" we presume he would not care to have it printed.

By the time some of our exchanges get through telling how many rabbits were killed by Mr. So and So during the recent big snow there will be buds and blooms on the trees in this sunny southland and a new crop of rabbits will be raising for next winter's snow.

In a communication printed elsewhere today a citizen suggests that arguments are no longer needed to convince people of the necessity for macadamized roads. He believes the people are ripe for the work to begin. We agree with him and hope to see the matter take tangible shape very soon.

This paper would feel that it has been grossly derelict should it fail to mention in this way the faithful, untiring and effective labors of the central committee who had in charge the fight for the dispensary—Messrs. A. M. Scales, J. S. Hunter and A. W. McAllister. There are many people who threw aside business and rendered valuable aid and assistance in naming the central committee it would be perhaps, unjust to call names, because there is an army of them and some would be overlooked. We want to say that the good people of Greensboro, those who represent the morals of the community, cannot be too lavish in praise or warm in their appreciation of the service of the central committee—they have worked hard.

A Few Facts.

Last May Mr. Chas. A. E. Harris brought Lieutenant Dan Godfrey and his British Guards Band out from London to Canada. The engagement entered into was for three weeks, the overwhelming success of this organization was so stupendous that the engagement was extended to seven weeks during which time some eighty concerts were given in the Dominion, at which performances over two hundred and twenty-three thousand persons paid admission. The receipts in Montreal, May 20th, were in excess of $6,000 (matinee and evening), whilst the receipts in Toronto on May 30th and 31st (one matinee and two evenings), approximated closely to $10,000 probably the largest receipts ever earned in so short a period by any other military band in the world. Eleven performances in all were given in Toronto at the last of which (open air) on June 28th, 21,000 people were present at the matinee and evening performance. Mr. Harris, contemplating an American tour in 1899, decided at the close of his Canadian tour last summer, and prior to the return of the British Guards Band to England, in order to test the ardor of the New York press and the general feeling of the public, to give a few concerts in New York. The press proved unanimous in their verdict of commendation. The public were delighted. Scenes of the greatest enthusiasm were witnessed and unprecedented were the ovations tendered the great leader and his band by the audiences which nightly crowded the building.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite, gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

And They Won't Forget Him. Mr. A. M. Scales, of Greensboro, has given a great deal of time to his people in his earnest endeavors to secure a dispensary. He has for weeks worked night and day, and has made two or more speeches at Raleigh in behalf of the measure. Our Raleigh correspondent complimented specially his last speech before the house committee.—Wilmington Messenger.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found her own health sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for the grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure the grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. E. Holton.

J. G. Parry, of Denver, Col., was killed in the wreck of the Union Pacific flyer, near Cheyenne, Wyo., and seven persons were injured.

For La Grippe

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 250 Wash. ave., corner Jackson st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of the grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by C. E. Holton.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

No tongue can tell what I have suffered in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.

MRS. GRACE LAMPERT.

Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature the little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles."

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service
JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2:20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jacksonville are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jacksonville. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thwait, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

PEOPLE WHO GAMBLE.

Chinese and Italians Especially Addicted to Games of Chance.

Of all the nations of the earth who gamble—and they all do it more or less—the Chinese come in an easy first. Superstition and the gambling mania go in double harness, and while the mandarins fly kites to decide what should be done about Wei-Hai-Wei and Tientsin-Wan the humbler Celestials gamble for dear life to pass the time away. "The Chinese play night and day," says a traveler, "till they have lost all they are worth, and then they usually go and hang themselves," from which it would appear that the yellow danger is not so formidable after all.

The Chinese laborers in the United States squander their earnings in a game called "white pigeon ticket." White, by the way, is the unlucky color for the gambler and the lucky one for the keeper of the gaming house. These gentry keep orange peel in a box, believing that it will bring them luck. "I think it will be only a day or two before he is able to get out and go down town," she added. The slamming of doors echoed heavily through the house. "Has he been dangerously sick?" "Not until today."

"But I understood you to say that he was convalescent."

"I think I may say that he is so. He wasn't well enough to be dangerous till this morning. But before noon he had discharged the trained nurse, quarreled with the cook, smashed a rocking chair against which he had stubbed his toe and thrown the canary bird out of the window. Those are always hopeful symptoms with him, and I feel fairly justified in saying that he is convalescent."

—Washington Star.

His Manner of Bath.

At a little cosmopolitan gathering in a home on the North Side the company were discussing the unkind thrust at "Miss Chicago" when the girl from Boston remarked as she peered serenely over her glasses:

"We always give it the continental accent. For instance, we say 'bawth.'"

"Pshaw!" said the New York girl, shrugging her handsome shoulders. "That isn't continental. That's New England. Now, we always pronounce it 'barth.'"

"You're away off," retorted Miss Chicago, going into the subject neck and elbows. "We are the most correct people in the world, with all the up-to-date knowledge there is, and we give it the full value—barth."

"There's a Londoner among us," suggested one of the company. "Get him to pronounce the word and notice what he does with the 'a.'"

So they tackled the bewildered Englishman, without letting him know their motive, but asking him solemn questions about his opinion of the bath. After regarding them with a sphinxlike stare through his monocled eye the gentleman from London said:

"Quite so. Quite so. I always tub in the morning."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Black Fooled Them.

Sir Wemyss Reid, in a personal sketch of his friend the late Mr. E. B. in The Spectator, tells how the novelist outwitted The Saturday Review. When "A Daughter of Heth" appeared, it took the town by storm, and as it appeared anonymously Sir Wemyss heard for the first time from an acquaintance

"Oh, don't you know?" was the instant response. "That is the best part of Saturday Review. He has written 'down' upon everything he has written, so he purposely published this book anonymously in order to take in the first people to sound the praises of 'A Daughter of Heth.' If his name had been on the title page, they would have damned it."

Unlike many bits of gossip about successful authors, this—as Sir Wemyss learned later from Mr. Black's own lips—was strictly true.

Dickens Was "Loud."

In the memoir of the late J. H. Friswell there is a glimpse of Dickens which will seem familiar to those Americans who remember the somewhat flamboyant dress of the novelist. "On one occasion," wrote the author of the "Gentle Life," "we were walking down Wellington street and just passing the office of Household Words when a hansom cab stopped and out stepped a gayly dressed gentleman. His bright green waistcoat and vivid scarlet tie any one would have noticed, but the size of the nosegay in his buttonhole riveted my attention. My father introduced me, and I, who had only seen engravings of the Macclise portrait and photographs, was astonished to find myself face to face with Charles Dickens."

She Swept the Street.

A newly arrived Irish servant was installed in the home of a family on the west side last week, and on the first morning of service she was told to go out and sweep the sidewalk.

After an absence of something like an hour she came back out to see what had become of the new servant. She was seen way down at the end of the block hard at work. She had gone the block's length, and she said she didn't know where she was to stop.—New York Sun.

A Feminine View.

Kate—So Carrie is to be married. I suppose she is very happy?
Ruth—Happy? I should say so. Mr. Flinton, her fiancé, doesn't amount to much, but her trousseau is just elegant.—Boston Transcript.

They Seldom Do.

"Isn't it awfully difficult," asked the gushing maiden, "to find new ideas for your plays?"
"I don't know," replied the successful playwright. "I have never tried it."—Brooklyn Life.

The Dangerous Stage.

The gentleman had rung the bell several times before the servant let him in. He was looking surprised and a trifle apprehensive when Mrs. Blykins came into the room.

"I called," he explained, "to inquire about your husband's health. He and I belong to the same organization, and several of the members desired me to call to see how he is getting along. We were very sorry to hear of his illness."

"It's very kind of you," she answered. "There was a crash which shook the chandelier."

She said no attention to it. "I think it will be only a day or two before he is able to get out and go down town," she added.

The slamming of doors echoed heavily through the house. "Has he been dangerously sick?" "Not until today."

"But I understood you to say that he was convalescent."

"Quite so. Quite so. I always tub in the morning."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Black Fooled Them.

Sir Wemyss Reid, in a personal sketch of his friend the late Mr. E. B. in The Spectator, tells how the novelist outwitted The Saturday Review. When "A Daughter of Heth" appeared, it took the town by storm, and as it appeared anonymously Sir Wemyss heard for the first time from an acquaintance

"Oh, don't you know?" was the instant response. "That is the best part of Saturday Review. He has written 'down' upon everything he has written, so he purposely published this book anonymously in order to take in the first people to sound the praises of 'A Daughter of Heth.' If his name had been on the title page, they would have damned it."

Unlike many bits of gossip about successful authors, this—as Sir Wemyss learned later from Mr. Black's own lips—was strictly true.

Dickens Was "Loud."

In the memoir of the late J. H. Friswell there is a glimpse of Dickens which will seem familiar to those Americans who remember the somewhat flamboyant dress of the novelist. "On one occasion," wrote the author of the "Gentle Life," "we were walking down Wellington street and just passing the office of Household Words when a hansom cab stopped and out stepped a gayly dressed gentleman. His bright green waistcoat and vivid scarlet tie any one would have noticed, but the size of the nosegay in his buttonhole riveted my attention. My father introduced me, and I, who had only seen engravings of the Macclise portrait and photographs, was astonished to find myself face to face with Charles Dickens."

She Swept the Street.

A newly arrived Irish servant was installed in the home of a family on the west side last week, and on the first morning of service she was told to go out and sweep the sidewalk.

After an absence of something like an hour she came back out to see what had become of the new servant. She was seen way down at the end of the block hard at work. She had gone the block's length, and she said she didn't know where she was to stop.—New York Sun.

A Feminine View.

Kate—So Carrie is to be married. I suppose she is very happy?
Ruth—Happy? I should say so. Mr. Flinton, her fiancé, doesn't amount to much, but her trousseau is just elegant.—Boston Transcript.

They Seldom Do.

"Isn't it awfully difficult," asked the gushing maiden, "to find new ideas for your plays?"
"I don't know," replied the successful playwright. "I have never tried it."—Brooklyn Life.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Wait of South Gardner, Mo., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by C. E. Holton.

The big strike of shop moulders at Holly, N. Y., has been settled, but the core makers are still out.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Instil vigorously on having it if "something else" is offered you. Howard Gardner.

An explosion of gas in the cellar of their home at Wabash, Ind., fatally injured Mrs. Emile Burns and her adopted daughter, Bessie Lane.

Mr. Moses H. Cone returned at noon today from Raleigh.

Maj. John G. Young, of Winston, was in the city today.

Dr. Smith will preach tomorrow night the fifth sermon on Jonah.

Ladies free at the academy of music
tonight to see "The Man from Maine."

Mrs. L. M. Clymer and children, left at noon for Burlington to visit relatives.

Shrier's shoes are popular for their correct style, perfect fit and durable wear.

Bloxton & Jennings' ad will interest those who are in need of furniture or stoves.

went to Reidsville today on legal business.

Did you know that a cough was more dangerous than a run-away horse? Read Jno. B. Farris' ad for a remedy.

A. G. Stroud left at noon for Ore
Hill to visit his brother, Dr. Stroud, who, we regret to learn, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

E. A. Ebert, of Winston, passed through the city at noon returning from Charlotte where he attended the Pythian Banquet last night.

Col. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, will deliver the annual address at the
A. & M. College here, the latter part of May. A capital selection.

Miss Lillie Burnette, a lovely young lady who has been visiting Miss Mary Trotter, on Ashe street, returned at noon today to her home in Reidsville.

Now is the time to purchase real estate. Read the ad of Wharton & McAllister on first page and see some of the property listed with them for sale.

It is talked here that the Southern will, in the spring, erect a new depot at Danville. It will be a handsome structure, something in keeping with Greensboro's, perhaps.

Last night was the date for a regular meeting of the board of alderman, but there failed to be a quorum present.
There was no important business to have come before the body.

Knowledge brings comfort, some live better and enjoy better health and

Out of town parties who contemplate hearing the noted British Guard Band at the G. F. College chapel March 9, can have their seats reserved by addressing Dr. Griffith or Jno. B. Farris of this city.

Rev. J. E. Gay, of Charlotte, formerly pastor of Centenary church here, is spending the afternoon in the city, shaking hands with the members of his old flock, and other friends.
He is returning to Charlotte from Raleigh where he has been working for the dispensary for that city.

On yesterday a hotel man from Asheboro was in the city and bought a complete line of crockery and tableware for his hotel from the progressive firm of E. M. Caldwell & Bro. This firm has recently been filling large orders in other towns. They are hustlers and carry the biggest line south of Baltimore.

An "Express Package" Injured

A fine donkey, enroute from Nashville, Tenn., to Burlington, by express, was badly hurt at the Southern station this morning. He was taken off one of the fast trains last night, and was to have been shipped to Burlington this morning and was left standing during the night, in the crate which was on the express truck. He became restless and after repeated efforts to get out made a lunge that broke the crate and his muleship fell to the platform sustaining serious injury to his back.

He was taken to Dr. Stewart, at Vanstory's stables, and given medical attention. Dr. Stewart says it's a doubtful case.

MRS. HOUSEK EPER:
Please permit us to ask you a very pointed question: Have you a Universal Food Chopper? By this we do not mean a meat grinder, but a Chopper, which takes the place of chopping bowl and beater.

It chops meat, of course, but it does more. You can chop ham, coconut, or bread instead of grating it. You can—but we can't tell it all here. Our booklet gives full information free.
You will have use for it every day in the year. It is very simple and very cheap. Please call and let us show it to you. Yours truly,
